Show Me The Honey (Dr. Seuss/Cat In The Hat) (Step Into Reading)

Synopsis

Where does honey come from? The Cat in the Hat knows that! It comes from bees, and what better way to learn about honey making than to visit inside a hive and see firsthand how it's done? In this rhymed easy reader based on an episode from the new PBS Kids television show The Cat in the Hat Knows a Lot About That!, the Cat, Sally and Nick, and Things One and Two shrink to bee size and learn how bees communicate via dance, collect nectar and spit it into combs, turn it into honey, and seal the combs with wax. This is a sweet, funny Step into Reading book that kids will gobble up (without realizing they are ingesting an important natural-history lesson!).

Tish Rabe is the author of eleven Cat in the Hat's Learning Library books (as well as many others). Christopher Moroney has illustrated countless books for children.

Ellie is 20 months and loved the book.

Great children's book to introduce bees and how they make honey. Mostly for younger children, it can really teach anyone about the roles the different bees have in the hive and how the bees dance to let other bees know where to find honey.

I have honey bees and like to get children's books that explain how hard the bees work and how important they are. This is a great book and very educational.

Love it! Can't wait to read it with the student I tutor!

Very easy to read, children can relate and follow along with the story.

Love this book! Very informative for preschoolers !

Kids loved it

Author Rabe is an excellent writer of the Seussian type children's books. These, including this title, are excellent for young children and help to establish a bond between adult and child. This book is recommended and Rabe can be considered a very creative author.
