Jon Forrest has been working with students at Bethel Free Will Baptist Church in Ashland City, Tennessee for about 25 years. He spent six years earning his four year degree from Welch College, proving he should have "applied himself" like his parents instructed him. His passions include collecting Nerf guns (he estimates well over 400 guns in his collection) and lobbying for Chick-fil-A to get Honey Roasted BBQ Sauce out of the little pillow packs and into the larger foil covered plastic containers where it belongs. Because he is crazy about students, he loves encouraging fellow youth workers, which he will do until he dies probably at the tender age of 107 at his expansive estate. His wife Carrie and daughter Ellie lovingly put up with him.

I bought this book for my daughter who is a 6th grade teacher. She LOVES it. The first week of school she picked several games from here and implemented in her classroom. By the end of the week she had teachers borrowing it and administration asking for a copy of their own. Highly recommend!

Excellent resource for parties, youth ministry, etc.!

It's An Awesome Book!!!

All youth ministers should have a copy of this in their office! I bought it right before youth camp! I was so thankful to have it. The games are hilarious and fun to do. Each game has simple "say this" "do this" instructions and even life lessons to follow. Great resource for youth ministry!

This is actually a youth leader book you will use all the time--unusual games and low cost ideas. Jon takes a hilarious approach in explaining details. Easy read and great reference book. What's next Jon?
