Customer Reviews

I like this notebook, it is perfect for journaling and for precision sketching, like I need, without blaring through the design sketch. I just wish the rows were more even. They seem to curve down the page and sometimes you end up with an extra dot on the bottom or side of the page.

My first review was too mean to be posted so I'm trying again. The notebook is not what it appears to be in the photo, the cover is a photo of another journal that was copied and pasted, it's pixelated and looks low quality, and the dots on the pages don't line up.

This is a solid notebook for daily use. The paper is not bad, and for the price, it is a good purchase.

just what I was looking for

Some body got the bright idea to make a grid journal note book in createspace and sell it at a affordable price. Brilliance. I use it for my bullet journal. If you dont like the cover design a little paint, washi tape and a corner punch can change the situation real quick. Or use a book cover made for composition notebooks. They sell a whole lot of pretty ones on etsy. The books are the same size as composition notebooks so they will fit the covers nicely.
